NATIONAL WHIG NOMINATIONS.

FOR PRESIDENT,

GENERAL WINFIELD SCOTT OF NEW JERSEY.

FOR VICE PRESIDENT, WILLIAM A. GRAHAM, OF NORTH CABOLINA.

RESOLVED. That the Whig people of Washington, conscious the ground they tread is worthy of the consecrate ame it bears only so long as it is peopled by men who hold the Union of the States as the source and fountain of the to the Union of the States as the source and fountain of the blessings of public order and private right—of liberty and law—of happiness at home, and honor throughout the world; and believing that in the principles and policy of the Whig party, and in the tried patriotism of its gloriou leaders, is the best safeguard of the Union from domestic discord or foreign quarrel, po BOLD FIRMLY to those principles, and will rally with ardent and united hearts arounthe flag of the Union, to whomsoever of these leaders is may be confided in the approaching contest.—Proceedings of a Whig meeting prior to the nomination.

NOTICE

It is absolutely necessary that all indebtedness to the office of the Daily American Triedraph, prior to the 16th of August, 1862, shall be paid forthwith. An earnest appeal is hereby made to every subscriber and advertizing patron to comply with this request. Nothing short of the prompt payment of such arrears will save the undersigned from still more serious losses; and he trusts that no person, however small may be his indebtedness, will disregard this notion.

Washington, Aug. 26, 1852. THOMAS C. CONNOLLY.

"Black Mail" and Dark Assertions

The Washington Union of this morning con tains one of its characteristic charges against the Whigs, based upon an alleged attempt of some Whig or Whigs in this city to collect moneys of the clerks in the employ of the government. This is a most remarkable charge to emanate from the organ of a party that has for many years pursued the very practice charged, in the most flagrant and tyrannical manner. But is it true? The Whig Executive Committee of this city, which has control of the ways and means of carrying on the election, has taken no such step, and has no cognizance thereof. If money has been collected for political uses-even for the distribution of the Life of General Scott-we can see no harm in it, and we think there is no more offence in receiving the contribution of a clerk than that of a merchant or a mechanic. But if such a request has been preferred to any of them, we have no knowledge of it, and believe that it must be the voluntary act of some Whig whose zeal we would by no means feel disposed to censure. That the Democratic party, when in power, used to levy a regular assessment upon all its officeholders, and exact its payment under heavy penalties, has been time and again proved to the satisfaction of the world; and we shall take an early occasion to lay these proofs before our readers; while to convict the Whig party of such a usage, we defy the Union and the horde of spying flunkies around it!

offence! And lo, what is it? It says:

"The two documents which the Whig managers rely most on-the documents which they cirmore extensively than all others-are furnished at the Era office. We allude to the Life of General Scott, and the article published in the ray the Abolitionists against him. So far as opsition to General Pierce is concerned, the understanding between the Whig and Abolition parviews of policy, having reference to future war-fare against the Democratic party and the guarantees of the Constitution, may dictate."

This paragraph involves as much misrepresentation and unfairness as could possibly be condensed into so brief a space. Of the Era article, we know nothing more than that it is an "Era article," and that Mr. Venable, of North Carolina, and other distinguished Democratic gentlemen, have nity. been purchasing it at the Era office for distribution at the South. But in that, of course, the Union sees office. It has been printed in this city by Mr. J. T. Towers, Messrs. Buell & Blanchard, and in printed a large amount of document work. They also print the National Era, under contract, for the editor and publisher, without having any more interest in that paper than the editor of the Union possesses. The Era office is (in several respects!) an entirely independent establishment, and its proprietor professes to be alone responsible for all the sins that can be justly charged upon it! The intimation, therefore, that the life of General Scott, and other Whig documents, "are furnished at the Era office," is one of a class whose origin is peculiar to the Washington Union. It may be trumpeted aloud throughout the country, and echoed by every Loco press and brawler; but it is untrue, and whoever asserts it as true must be told so.

Georgia Politics.

The Savannah Republican of the 24th, re- offered. ceived yesterday, says the Baltimore American of this morning, contains a telegraphic despatch from Macon announcing that the Executive Committee of the Union party had issued a circular withdrawing their electoral ticket and calling a meeting of the Union Whigs and Democrats to be held at Atlanta on the 18th of September to determine on the course to be pursued. The ticket which has thus been withdrawn was nominated by the Union Constitutional Convention after it had declared for the Democratic nominees, Pierce and King, and after a large portion of the original members of the Convention had withdrawn, disgusted at the course pursued by Gov. Cobb and the other leading members of the so-called Union party. There are still three electoral tickets nominated in that State-the regular Whig ticket for Scott and Graham; the third party ticket put forward by the Convention which nominated Webster and Jenkins; and the regular Democratic ticket for Pierce and King. The differences of opinion which have heretofore divided the Whig party of the State and prevented party seem to be gradually disappearing, and though the prospect at this time is certainly none of the brightest, yet we do not entirely despair of Georgia resuming her position among the Whig States of the Union and casting her vote for Scott and Graham.

The Southern Rights Committee have called a Convention to assemble on the 13th of September to nominate a candidate-General Pierce, the despatch states, having failed to answer.

The Attorney General returned to this Congress To-day. SENATE .- Mr. HUNTER reported the army and navy appropriation bills, with amendments, and the post office appropriation bill.

A motion to take up the civil and diplomatic appropriation bill was rejected. The subject of the Florida contested election was taken up, and, after a long debate, it was decided that Mr. Yulee, the claimant, be heard at the bar of the Senate.

Mr. Yulee then addressed the Senate in suport of his claim.

House of Representatives. - The House assed the bill making further provision for the satisfaction of Virginia military land warrants, and the Senate bill authorizing the exportation of goods, in the original packages, to Mexico, through Texas; and concurred in the amendments of the Senate to the bill amendatory of the act reducing and modifying the rates of postage, with a change of phraseology.

The amendments of the Senate to the Indian appropriation bill were considered; some of them were non-concurred in.

The House passed a bill granting lands to Arkansas and Missouri for railroad purposes.

Loudoun County, Virginia.

The Whigs of this great county were at first eluctant; but we learn that, under the lead of John Janney, they are entering upon the campaign with the zeal of '40. Mr. Janney, John M. Orr, and Charles B. Tebbs, addressed the Scott Club last week, in Leesburg, and the indications, says the Washingtonian, were most cheerful and animating.

Mr. CHOATE A WEBSTER MAN .- The authorative announcement that Mr. Choate is a Webster nan, and will vote for Webster in November, is creating an immense sensation in the Scott ranks. Brick Making.

The Baltimore Sun states that a little over a year ago, Mr. Isaac Scribner took a lease of land near that city, of about seventeen acres, and commenced laying it out for the extensive manufacture of brick. Mr. Webster, it is said, will probably leave Washington in a few days for Marshfield, with the intention of returning in a month or six weeks. He has relinquished the idea of retiring from the Department of State. - Baltimore Sun.

Borrowing Money.

We copy the following instructive article from the New York Tribune: tance who, reading in our commercial reports that money is plenty in Wall street at 4, 5 or 6

We are often addressed by persons at a disper cent., ask us to negotiate them loans at these or higher rates on real estate in Ohio, Michigan, or Iowa, which they represent (we presume truly as worth double or treble the sum they wish to porrow on it. And yet it is no more available in Wall street than so much self-righteousness.

The loans made in Wall street at 4 or 5 per cent. are demand loans—that is to say: A. B. has several thousand dollars on hand, (perhaps other men's money left with him for future or contingent use,) which is not likely to be wanted for some months, though it may be called for tomorrow. In all, there are seven millions of such funds in Wall street. The holders would like to have it earning something, but they must at all times be able to put their fingers on it at an hour's notice, as some creditor or depositor may call for it. Now, there is another set of rich men, (perhaps in good part the same men who lent last year,) who want to use money in their business, and can give for it the most undoubted and immediately convertible security. For instance, one has $100,000 invested in United States or the very best State stocks, which are his clear of debt, yet he is willing to make more if he can do it safely. He says, "I believe Erie (or Harlem, or Hudson River, or some other) Railroad stock must soon rise; so I will risk half what I am worth upon it. So he pledges half his own United States or State stock for a loan of $50,000 in cash at 4 or 5 per cent. on call—that is, he must pay the loan when demanded, or the creditor may sell the stocks pledged for it and reimburse himself. With the $50,000 thus borrowed, he "spreads himself" on the stock or stocks he believes destined to rise-perhaps buying only to the extent of his means, and perhaps buying ten times that amount on "time," and only paying or depositing 5 or 10 cent. as a "margin." It the stock rises, as he anticipated, he makes largely; if it falls, he loses in proportion. But in any case, the lender of the $50,000 can get it back whenever he wants it, beyond a moral pos-sibility; and this is why he lends it at so low a

There is no such thing as brrrowing here at 4, 5, 6, 7, or even ten per cent. on real estate— at least we know not where or how it may be done. Loans on city property are daily negotiated at 6 to 7 per cent., but on no other. The that they may obtain their money back the very hour they want it, no matter though the borrower be a knave and a bankrupt. It is idle, therefore, to write us with reference to borrowing money in this city; we do several kinds of business, but that is entirely out of our line.

An old vagrant horse, on 7th street this morn ing, stepped upon the sidewalk, and after taking a good observation of the interior of Mr. Saur's barber-shop, deliberately walked in and presented his face for inspection; but as it revealed too wide a field for the operations of the knights of the razor within, he was made to "turn about and wheel about," and abscond with his sad, hairy countenance as grave and stolid as a Chestnut street dandy or a Norwegian bear!

Judge Stokely, of Ohio, who was nominated and confirmed as a member of this court-chief justice, I believe-is reported to have declined the appointment. Mr. Snow, who is now the only acting judge, is a last winter, be Mormon, and, as such, acceptable to the people of the territory. It is no longer denied that the | much-used, and, I think, highly-valuable, "Hampton Veg-Mormon people are polygamists. They have the fact in official communications through their elders. Our relations with these fanatics are likely to occasion much trouble. Early in May, the Secretary of State informed the two judges and the secretary of the Territory, who had returned to Washington, that unless they forthwith repaired to Utah, and entered upon the discharge of their official duties, successors would be appointed. They all declined, except upon the condition that Brigham Young should be removed, and new nominations were made accordingly. Judge Brocchus has issued a wellwritten statement, giving his reasons for the course pursued by him, and very clearly showing that no officer of the United States can execute the laws and fulfil his duties in Utah, while the place of chief magistrate is filled by a person of Young's character. He proves, also, that the design of the Mormons is to build up an independent State, and that they only delay to throw off the authority of the United States until such a time as they shall better assured of impunity than they now do."

> (Communicated.) WATER.

MESSRS. EDITORS: It is universally admitted that there is nothing so conducive to the health of a community as pure water, for household purposes, bathing, &c.; and an abundant supply in very city is a desideratum, not for convenience and luxury alone, but for safety. The past history of our metropolis records terrible devastaions by fire, which destroyed most of our public archives, numerous specimens of science and the arts, and occasioned, besides, heavy losses in the lestruction of our government buildings. A petition is now before Congress, signed by several thousands of our citizens, and laid before the Committee on the District, who as yet have not acted upon it. A charter is prayed for, and the company pledge themselves, if they are allowed by law to organize, to furnish the inhabitants with water from the Potomac, with a propelling force that will drive it to at least twenty feet higher than the dome of the Capitol! To say nothing of the advantages which will accrue to the citizens same men who lend at 4 or 5 per cent., as above, probably would not lend at twenty per cent. on Illinois lands—nor at any rate. They need to the benefit of our city, by ornamental fountains that their security is ample; then in our public places, and by the protection af-forded to public and private property—making it next to impossible that an extensive conflagration could ever again take place amongst us. is hoped, therefore, that our citizens and sojourners, who are more or less deeply interested in the subject, will urge upon their friends in Congress speedy action in the premises, and that the committee having the matter in charge will at once make a report, so that, if possible, (and easily possible I believe it is,) a charter may be granted at this session, and the work will be forthwith energetically commenced, and hastened to rapid and permanent completion. SHADES OF CHARACTER. OR THE INFANT PILGRIM.

BY ANNE WOODBOYFE, author of "Michael Kemp." In two volumes. R. Carter & Brothers. "A charming book, full of deep, true, and glowing sentiment, with lively glimpses of character, pen-portraits and sketches, which keep the interest ever alive, and withat with instruction is so happily blended that the pleasure of the book is only equalled by its profit. It is a better book than "The Wide, Wide World," which has been so widely and justly popular, and we are sure that those who re this will be glad that we have called their attention to it."
